The Job Just Got Easier and Faster

by Florene Turner (daughter of Helen Mae Tingley Ulrich Goss, daughter of Edith Gertrude Gage Tingley and Nelson Eugene Tingley)

Alice Schafer is the proofreader of Tingley Times. This is such a blessing and such a help. She is so good at proofreading, that all the issues that she and Dave Schafer produced NEVER had an error – never – not one! I emailed her the previous edition (Volume 19 Issue 6). She sent me the report lickety split! Every edition took me hours to proofread – hours. Thank you, Alice! You may have noticed her name on the back page of Volume 19 Issue 6, "Alice Schafer, Proofreader." If you missed it, you can see it on the back page of this edition.

Spelling and the Nose Ring

by Edith Gertrude Gage Tingley (wife of Nelson Eugene Tingley)

Our school teacher's name was Mack Mayer. We all liked him, and he was a good teacher.

Every little while we would have a spell down with another school, and Mack would teach us unusual words so we could spell the other school down. Two of those words I shall never forget. One was transubstantionableness, and the other was honorificabilitudinity. These two words could spell any school down.

Mack had a way of punishing us that was most embarrassing to me, so I'd better get good grades! He would draw a ring on the blackboard, and the offender had to stand at the board with his nose in the ring. The board would get all wet around from our breath, and sometimes streams of water would run down. That was so embarrassing for me that sometimes I could hardly keep the tears back. But Clara, she was the limit!

She seemed to get a big kick out of it. One day he sent her to the board. When he wasn't looking, she picked up a piece of chalk and made an ugly face out of the ring, put some ears on it, and wrote "Mack" under it. When he told her to take her seat, there was this ugly face with his name under it. Well, everybody had to laugh and so did Mack. No one but Clara could have gotten away with that. He walked over to the board, picked up an eraser and rubbed it out, laughing. At this time Mack was a married man with one baby son.

IT STAGGERS THE MIND

by Jim Turner (husband of Florene Turner, daughter of Helen Mae Tingley Ulrich Goss, daughter of Edith Gertrude Gage Tingley and Nelson Eugene Tingley)

I received this very interesting e-mail and wish to share it. Show this to your children and/or grandchildren.

The Year 1909

This will boggle your mind; I know it did mine! The year is 1909, 100 years ago. What a difference a century makes! Here are some statistics for the Year 1909:

- The average life expectancy was 47 years.
- Only 14% of the houses had a bathtub.
- Only 8% of the houses had a telephone.
- There were only 8,000 cars and only 144 miles of paved roads.
- The maximum speed limit in most cities was 10 mph.
- The tallest structure in the world was the Eiffel Tower!
- The average wage in 1909 was 22¢ hourly.
- The average worker made between $200 and $400 yearly.
- A competent accountant could expect to earn $2000 yearly.
- A dentist, $2,500 yearly.
- A veterinarian, between $1,500 and $4,000 yearly.
- A mechanical engineer, about $5,000 yearly.
- More than 95% of all births took place at home.
- 90% of all doctors had NO COLLEGE EDUCATION! Instead, they attended so-called medical schools, many of which were condemned in the press and the government as "substandard."
- Sugar cost 4¢ a pound.
- Eggs were 14¢ a dozen.
- Coffee was 15¢ a pound.
- Most women only washed their hair once monthly and used Borax or egg yolks for shampoo.
- Canada passed a law that prohibited poor people from entering into their country for any reason.
- Five leading causes of death were pneumonia and influenza, tuberculosis, diarrhea, heart disease, and stroke.
- The American flag had 45 stars.
- The population of Las Vegas, Nevada, was only 30!
- Crossword puzzles, canned beer, and iced tea hadn't been invented yet.
- There was no Mother's Day or Father's Day.
- Two out of every ten adults couldn't read or write.
- Only six percent of all Americans had graduated from high school.
- 18% of households had at least one full-time servant or domestic help.
- There were about 230 reported murders in the entire U.S.A.!

This was forwarded to me by someone without typing it, who sent it to others all over the world and me – all in a matter of seconds! Try to imagine what it may be like in another 100 years. It staggers the mind.

EDITORS NOTE: Typewriters had a ¢ key. I know because I used to use typewriters and the ¢ key. However, when I typed this article for Jim, I searched my computer keyboard for the ¢ key. It doesn't even have one! I had to get it from Insert, Symbol. How about that! I do believe the cent sign may become obsolete in another 100 years!
